Come visit us on Culture Night
Friday 23 September 2022 @ The Hugh Lane Gallery!

The Hugh Lane Gallery is open on Culture Night until 10pm. We are delighted to present an evening of art, music, performance and more inspired by modern and contemporary art through an imaginative programme of in-gallery activity as well as opportunities for enjoying the collection and our temporary exhibition Bones in the Attic now on view.

Music Programme: Sculpture Hall

We invite you to a listening experience brought to you by a selection of musical performers curated by Mathew Nolan. No advance booking is required and places available for each performance throughout the evening on a first come basis. Read more about each performer on hughlane.ie

5.30pm-6pm Laura Ann Brady is an alternative folk artist

6.1pm-6.45pm Sean Mac Erlaine's work intersects folk, free improvisation, jazz and traditional music.

7pm-7.30pm Blind Stitch is a project which features the music of Kevin Murphy, a celebrated cellist, multi-instrumentalist, composer

7.45pm-8.15pm Ellie O'Neill and Sean Carpio's collaboration explores play and presence in music.

8.30pm-9pm Sharon Phelan will perform an experimental set with analog synth.

9.10-9.40pm Thomas Haugh will be performing a set of ciné-folk tunes on Tsymbaly and Zither

Pop Up music by Max Crowley, Uilleann piper as well as Bill and Sheila on banjo and fiddle will also take place intermittently throughout the evening in spaces throughout the Gallery.

Performance Art: Lucky Cat with artist Victoria Callinan.

Location: Gallery 18, 6.30-8.30pm

Lucky Cat, modelled off of the renowned beckoning cat statues, waves her arm above a button shuffling a selection of 32 digital fortune cards – revealing your financial fate. These cards ridicule the reality of the struggles faced by the ‘cubs’ of the Celtic Tiger – including exceptionally high rent, emigration, pay cuts and unstable contracts.

Victoria Callinan is an Irish interdisciplinary performance and installation artist based in Berlin, Germany. Born in 1994 alongside the launch of web 2.0, her work is influenced by social media culture, memes, and parodic versions of self.

Drop in: Embossed Printmaking workshop

Location: Entrance Hall, 7.15pm-9.15pm

Make your own beautiful embossed print during this drop in session led by artist Janine Davidson. No experience necessary. Suitable for ages 6+ to adults.

Pop Up Talks

5pm Pop up 15 mins talk: Stained glass room with Renata Pekowska

5.45pm Pop up 15 mins talk: Francis Bacon Studio with Renata Pekowska
