

HUGH LANE GALLERY

PARNELL SQ.

The purpose for processing your voice message is for participation in Pass Freely, a street art project by Asbestos with Hugh Lane Gallery. The voice clips will be used as part of a social media campaign to bring to light the stories of those we have lost to Covid as each match represents a life lived.

Consent for use of your voice message in the project will be requested by text message. You should receive an automated response to your first WhatsApp message asking for your consent to use the voice message in this project.

Your voice message will be shared only with the artist and once consent is given, it will then be shared publicly on the social media profiles of @thehughlane and @artofasbestos. All participants' names will not be used.

A record of your voice message will be retained for 2 years and will be removed from social media after the first year. All data received will be deleted and the phone number will expire.

Please note, participants can withdraw consent at any stage by texting a withdrawal request to the WhatsApp number or by emailing lost@artofasbestos.com.
