

What to expect when we visit the Hugh Lane Gallery.

The Hugh Lane Gallery is a big building on Parnell Square North at the top of O'Connell Street.

There are lots of artworks inside.

There is a ramp and steps leading up to a big blue door.

Inside there is a reception desk where we can ask for help or information.

There are toilets at the entrance.

We can put our coats and bags into these big green boxes.

When we walk through the gallery we will see paintings...

...and sculptures.

We can look but we must remember not to touch.

We can use the stairs or lift to get around.

And if we need help we can ask the attendants who work in the gallery.

This is the education space, if we are attending a workshop we can find it on Floor 2.

There is an accessible toilet in this room.

HUGH LANE GALLERY

Comhairle Cathrach
Bhaile Átha Cliath
Dublin City Council